ALL KINDS OF DAYS

We have nearly every kind of a day, when we pause in our work for an observance of some sort or other, buy a gift for loved ones and friends and otherwise pay homage to the sentiment it represents. We have long had a mother's day, and next came into line for recognition and finally we discovered, belatedly it is true, that the mother-in-law is somebody's mother after all. We all arose to the occasion very manfully, bought her home posies and took her into our hearts.

WE ARE EXTREMISTS

Americans are never satisfied unless they go to the extremes. That seems to be an inseparable part of our temperament, if not a defect in it. Accordingly we "cottoned" to the idea very strongly and proceeded to have a day for nearly every kind of food that is grown or manufactured. Prunes, apricots, lemons, oranges, raisins and a thousand other things have found a place of honor on the calendar with due observance being paid to one and all of them. Perhaps after a while we will be like the Mexicans with their festival days, which far outnumber the workday ones.

WE DOMINATE

Fortunately here in California we have a few open dates left and therefore I am going to risk the wrath of the gods and nominate another day to be known as "denial day." This thought came to mind when a flock of denials came floating into the office on Friday.

District Attorney Francis P. Healey entered strenuous denial that his office was in any manner to blame for the runout powder taken by Mrs. Ruth McCord before a warrant of arrest could be served on her.

The sheriff, John A. Miller, came to the forefront, saying it was not his intention, as printed in the papers, to call for governmental aid to handle the Crockett situation.

Finally Dr. McFisher, caught the fever and disclaimed that anything had been going on in the sterilization of such service cases at the county hospital and elsewhere in Contra Costa county.

PERFECTLY PROPER

There is no intention or desire on my part to take issue with anyone of the three statement-makers; in fact, circumstances dictated that

Opening Of Dog Track Is Delayed

John J. Jerome, owner and operator of the El Cerrito dog track yesterday announced that the opening of the course has again been postponed.

The opening was scheduled for Monday night but Jerome stated that the track now plans to start its spring meeting on March 26 or 27.

At that time, Jerome said, the track will be opened regardless of what action the state legislature takes upon a dog racing bill now before it.

Francis P. Healey, district attorney of the county, has announced that he will start proceedings to close the dog track "very shortly" after it opens.

Richmond Girl Wins Leg Title

A Richmond girl, now appearing in a Broadway show, today is the possessor of the title of "Most Beautiful Legs in the World."

She is Miss Eunice Healey, 23-year-old dancer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Healey, 1818 Penn avenue.

She was honored at a recent silk and hostess conference by Robert Hyde, chairman, as 1935's successor to Barbara Hutton, Fay Harbo and Claire Luce, who have held the honor in recent years.

A graduate of Richmond high school, Miss Healey, then still using her own first name, Eileen, studied for several years under Elysis Rostova of Oakland.

She danced in Ziegfeld's Roof Garden, Earl Carroll's "Sketch Book," and in the musical shows "Girl Crazy" and "Laugh Parade." She is starring now with Hal LeRoy in "Thumbs Up."

MRS. CECIL BOWER is entertaining her sister, Mrs. Frances Bower of Susanville.

THE WEATHER

BAY REGION— Cloudy Sunday and Monday moderate temperature, gentle to moderate northerly winds.

CROCKETT PLANT MAY REOPEN THIS WEEK

6 ARRESTED IN ROW ARE GIVEN BAIL

CROCKETT, March 16.—(UP)—New violence was in prospect in the Crockett sugar refinery labor war tonight when the California and Hawaiian sugar plant was reported to be mobilizing special police for a forcible reopening early next week.

The special officers will be used to escort workers through picket lines, it was said, although officially it was stated resumption of operations would wait for peace.

SIX FREED ON BAIL

MARTINEZ, March 16.—Six men arrested upon criminal conspiracy charges at Berkeley yesterday as an outgrowth of the Crockett labor strife gained their freedom here today after Justice of the Peace Ray Standish of Crockett had reduced their bond from $2,500 to $1,000 each.

Because of the tense feeling in Crockett the court hearing was held in Judge A. B. Wilson's courtroom here.

HEARING IS SET

Leo Sullivan, Oakland attorney, represented the union men and it was only after the reduction was finally consented to. Sullivan also asked Justice Standish to continue until Monday morning time for setting preliminary hearing for the men, stating that he had not yet had an opportunity to confer with them.

Bonds totaling $6,000 were immediately posted for Jack O'Connor, A. F. Browning of Richmond, George W. Wolfson, William Breen, Louis Silva and W. N. Sperry, the six defendants, by the John Filippelli bail bond firm of Oakland and they were released.

Sullivan's first request for reduction was refused.

NAZI ARMY INCREASE ANNOUNCED

BERLIN, March 16.—(UP)—Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler threw the Versailles Treaty in the discard today, declared universal military conscription and announced Germany would create immediately an army of 500,000 men.

Reconstruction of the old German army system came suddenly. Out of the cloud of skies of Europe, brooding with suspicion and rearmament, all sides, the Fuehrer threw his thunderbolt.

ALLIES STARTLED

The reaction was immediate. It startled chancelleries from the British legation in the Balkans. White House's proclamation did not specifically and formally denounce the "effrayance" of the Versailles treaty, its effect was exactly that.

Sir Eric Philips, British ambassador, was summoned to the chancellery and was informed by Hitler that a German army of half a million men would be created at once.

PROCLAMA IN MADE

Hitler's proclamation was forthright and thorough. It reiterated Germany's objections to the Versailles treaty, the failure of others to disarm as they had promised, and openly declared his plans.

"Germany then saw herself forced to take measures for her own protection and is now publishing these measures, a part of which have already been adopted," the proclamation said.

In referring to the failure of others to disarm, it mentioned the tremendous increase of Russian armaments—Moscow recently announced it had nearly 1,000,000 men under arms and also mentioned the

New Witness Says Lamson With Woman In Machine

SAN JOSE, March 16.—(UP)—The State has a witness who will testify he saw David Lamson parked in a light-blue topless roadster with a blonde, curly-haired woman in the early morning of the day Mrs. Lamson was found dead in her bathtub. It was revealed today.

District Attorney Fred L. Thomas, while not disclosing officially the name of the witness, said he already had been subpoenaed for such testimony next week.

However, it was believed the witness will be Nick Bojovich, Mayfield chauffeur. His story is expected to be used by the prosecution to establish a background for a motive in Mrs. Lamson's death, which the State charges was at her husband's hands.

Sara Kelley, blonde Sacramento divorcee, has been mentioned repeatedly as "friendly" with the accused man. They collaborated in writing a book.

Lamson's own contention is that he was in bed at the time the new witness allegedly saw him. It was learned "Big Nick's" story is that he left Mayfield in the early morning of May 29, bound for Palo Alto to obtain some furniture for his employer.

On his way back, he assertedly saw a man who he "is positively sure" was Lamson with the blonde headed girl parked under an oak tree on the Stanford University campus.

Finds Cause Of Hill Movement; Now The Remedy

That mountain on the Pinole Valley road that is moving hither and yon to the annoyance of travelers and Supervisor J. N. Long, was subjected to a physical examination yesterday by Dr. Carlton D. Hullin, geologist at the University of California.

In the meantime the road is doing the shimmying act and sinking at the rate of four inches every 24 hours. To fill the gap thus created, Supervisor Long has had 200 tons of earth and rock dumped there in order to fill up the yawning void.

However, this is but a temporary expedient and only for the purpose of making the road traversible.

The diagnosis of Dr. Hullin is that underneath the ground at an undetermined distance there is a stratum of clay which absorbs the moisture from wet weather. When the earth begins to dry out the water comes out of the clay and forms a water level between the two strata.

The result is that there is nothing to which the upper strata can affix itself and therefore it slips, accounting for the earth movement.

Dr. Hullin and County Engineer Ralph R. Arnold will soon go into a huddle and try to determine a method to overcome the difficulty. In the meantime this particular mountain has a movement all its own.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Suit

MARTINEZ, March 16.—Allegations of cruelty were made by Mildred Irene Simmons in a suit for divorce filed in superior court here today against Joseph N. Simmons through Attorney T. N. Calfee of Richmond.

Mrs. Simmons charges that her husband struck her, called her names and told her he did not care for her.

The couple married March 29, 1932 and separated January 4, 1935. Custody of minor children and $40 monthly alimony are asked by the plaintiff.

SOUTHWEST HARD HIT BY GALES

KANSAS, March 16.—(UP)—The body of Hile Salomon, 7, suffocated by the dust storm described as the worst in Western Kansas history, was found late today by a searching party of 200.

The child, son of Mrs. Pearl Salomon, was found near Winona a quarter of a mile from his home. He had wandered from home last night shortly after a gale started swirling billows of dust over the countryside.

Apparently blinded by the dust he had fallen and his body was partially covered with the powder. Death resulted from suffocation.

Sarah Kelley, blonde Sacramento divorcee, has been mentioned repeatedly as "friendly" with the accused man. They collaborated in writing a book.

Lamson's own contention is that he was in bed at the time the new witness allegedly saw him. It was learned "Big Nick's" story is that he left Mayfield in the early morning of May 29, bound for Palo Alto to obtain some furniture for his employer.

BARBARA AND PRINCE PART

LONDON, March 16.—(UP)—Princess Midvanti, formerly Barbara Hutton, Woolworth heiress, has instructed her attorney in New York, Millard Tompkins, to take preliminary steps to apply for a divorce in Reno from Prince Alexander.

Princess Midvanti herself revealed her decision in an exclusive interview in her suite at the Dorchester hotel today.

AGREED TO PART

"Alex and I," she said, "have definitely agreed to part—but only legally. I mean by that as a result of this decision, we today are greater friends than ever and intend always to remain so."

"The fact is, we have the greatest mutual affection and respect and always did have, even if we

GRAND JURY SCORED FOR PROBE PART

The "investigation" of alleged sterilization of women at the county hospital took a new turn yesterday when Assistant District Attorney Rex Boyer declared that members of the social service committee of the county grand jury exceeded their authority and may have been guilty of a technical violation of the law in their perusal of records at the county hospital.

"There is no doubt that the members of the committee were entitled to the names of patients at the hospital," Boyer said, "but it is my opinion that they exceeded their authority in examining case records. Such information, under the law, is regarded as a confidential communication between patient and physician, and neither can be compelled to disclose it in court."

Boyer added that his investigation, thus far, has revealed "no evidence of any illegal operation."

He further declared that no names of persons involved and no evidence will be made public until the proper time comes.

"We are pursuing the investigation, and if the evidence warrants, (Continued on Page 5)

SCIOTS HOLD CEREMONIAL

Sciots—600 or more of them—were guests of the city of Richmond last night at a gigantic ceremonial held in the honor of Supreme Topharch of the World Judge Harry Pulifer.

The ceremonial, attended by Sciots from the entire bay district, was opened at 7:30 with a business meeting at the Richmond clubhouse, presided over by Topharch Allen J. Cundy of the Richmond Pyramid.

At 8:15 a gigantic street parade was held, headed by Police Chief L. E. Jones as marshal, and Mayor George Imbach as honorary marshal. Participating in the parade were uniformed drill teams and bands.

A touch of humor to the proceedings was provided by the antics and disclosures of the candidates for initiation, who were dressed in outlandish costumes and were posed in unusual—to say the least—positions.

After the parade the Sciots went to Winters' hall at Eleventh street and Macdonald avenue where the initiation ceremonies were held under Cundy's direction.

The guests were welcomed by Mayor George Imbach at the opening of the ceremonies.

Following the initiation a program of professional entertainment was staged. Light refreshments were served.

Motorcycle Rider Injured In Crash

Charles B. Overman, of 1449 Potrero avenue, suffered deep cuts and bruises last night when he lost control of his motorcycle on San Pablo avenue in El Cerrito and the machine tipped over.

Passing motorists brought Overman to the hospital here where he was given treatment.

RIFLE STOLEN

Arthur Hertwig reported to the police yesterday that some thief stole a Winchester rifle and a garden fork out of his auto while it was parked in front of his home at 4301 Potrero avenue, above Fred's Place, near

Two Autos And Bicycle Stolen

Two autos were stolen in Richmond yesterday.

The Chrysler 70 roadster of Arthur Valandero of 1052 Forty-fifth street, Oakland, was stolen from in front of the Ford plant between 7:15 a. m. the hour he went to work and when he quit work at 3:15 p. m.

Dorothy Oswill, 539 Thirty-second street, parked her 1926 model Buick in a vacant lot on Ninth, next to the Dr. Vestal building, at 7:45 last evening, but when she went at ten to drive home it was gone. Radio broadcasts were made but up to an early hour this morning neither machine had been recovered.

A bicycle was also reported stolen last evening by Mrs. George Leber, 268 South Forty-sixth street. It was blue and white and belonged to her son. To add insult to injury someone later threw a rock through one of the rear windows of the home.

James Burns, a taxi driver for the Fifth street garage of Charles H. Rothrock, was set upon and badly beaten by several men at the Green Porch in North Richmond early last evening. His assailants also broke out all the windows in the cab.

A call for a taxi was received at the garage shortly after 8 o'clock and Burns responded to it. When he reached the Green Porch several men leaped upon him and in the melee the driver suffered several head and face lacerations. He was taken to the Cottage hospital for treatment and later returned to his room.

Burns said the assault was made on him by six men.

NEW INTEREST
BEING SHOWN IN BOX FIGHT

NEW YORK, March 16.—(UP)—Professional boxing, sports "ugly duckling" which the nation's flaccid writers burned to a crisp in year-end reviews, is rising now from its own ashes like a modern Phoenix and sprouting golden plumage reminiscent of Tex Rickard's day.

It should be a grand bird indeed before the frost is on the pumpkin and the faddists in the shock because a flock of banner fights and big gates are in the making. Able and brawny athletes are ready for battle, and matches in at least five of the game's fight divisions, and several fortunate factors have proved robust stimulants to the public's enthusiasm.

NEW INTEREST

When more than 18,000 fans shell out nearly $45,000 to see a bout of mediocre Carrera - Impellitteri brand, it shows that the optimism of fight followers has revived in a big way, despite the freak angles connected with a collision of giants. Increasing attendances are reported in other cities.

This brand new fan interest and optimism was caused by three stimulants: Max Schmeling's smashing victory over Steve Hamas in Hamburg; Lou Ambers' sensational performance against Harry Duhinsky and Sammy Fuller, and Jack Dempsey's appearances as referee in Madison Square Garden.

Schmeling, former heavyweight champ, was so impressive against Hamas that he started people talking again and caused such apprehension in the bosom of Max Baer that the title-holder decided to forsake his entertainment avocations and buckle down to training. Although Carrera, Art Lasky and Jim Braddock are still in the heavyweight challenge competition, the shadow of the Black Union looms over them all. Most experts figure Schmeling is certain to continue his brilliant come-back campaign and have another engagement with Baer this summer. Joe Louis, Detroit's Negro heavy, probably will be eased out diplomatically from the championship parade.

TITLE BOUT

A lightweight title fight between Champion Barney Ross and the No. 1 challenger, Lou Ambers, would rank next to a Baer-Schmeling match in drawing power. This 135-pound brawl is certain to be staged this summer by either the Garden or the Twentieth Century Sporting club, both of New York.

Negotiations are under way to match Teddy Yaroaz, middleweight champion, and Bence Dundee, from whom he won the crown. This bout probably will be staged at Pittsburgh or Philadelphia.

When Freddie Miller, the N. B. A. feather champion, finishes his busy European campaign, a match with Baby Arizmendi of Mexico, regarded as champion in New York state, should prove attractive. Both are able and willing battlers.

The light heavy, bantam and flyweight divisions are still in the doldrums.

Garibotti Wins In College Net Play

Clarence Garibotti, Richmond youth, aided the St. Mary's College tennis team to win from Menlo Junior College netmen on Saturday.

All Charges In Insult Case Are Now Dismissed

CHICAGO, March 16.—The only remaining state charges against Samuel Insull, Sr. and his brother, Martin J. Insull, will be dropped, it was announced today. State Attorney Thomas J. Courtney instructed his assistants to notify those indictments containing no other charge of embezzlement against the two.

Courtney stated: "In view of the acquittal of the Insulls (Samuel and his brother, Martin), on the strongest indictments against them, and because of the fact that the evidence in the pending case has been passed upon by a jury in the recent trial of Samuel Insull, I do not believe a conviction can be obtained on the indictment pending."

The indictment charges the two Insulls with the embezzlement of $104,722 from the Mississippi Valley Utilities Investment company.

INTEND TO WED

Fred Proctor, 24, of 445 Second street, Richmond, and Edith M. Hamill, 26, of 327 Brown avenue, Oakland, yesterday filed with the county clerk notice of intention to wed.

Speaking of Sports

PHILADELPHIA, March 16.—UP—The glamorous collection of tennis trophies acquired by "Big Bill" Tilden during his many years as the game's greatest star, probably is the most valuable in the world.

In fact, Tilden, who is now heading a professional group of players, has insured his trophies for $10,000.

The most attractive of the collection is the three-year National Lawn Tennis Championship cup, 1911-22. Inscribed on it are the names of some of the most notable racketeers during the past 25 years. Twice, Maurice E. McLoughlin, R. N. Williams and William M. Johnston had their names engraved on it. But Tilden was the first three-time winner, and thereby received permanent possession.

Another outstanding trophy won by "Big Bill" is the Renshaw Cup, England. Tilden won it at Wimbledon by defeating the world's greatest players.

Among medals presented to him for his notable victories, are the Olympic Medal, 1920; the King's Medal, Old England Club, 1920; the world's championship medals of 1920 and 1921; the French Medal, and the U. S. L. T. A. Jubilee medals.

However, one of Tilden's proudest possessions is a tray, donated by Philadelphia clubs in 1921.

BROTHER LEO TO SPEAK AT HIGH MONDAY

Of interest to the people of Richmond is the announcement that Brother Leo, noted man of letters, will deliver a lecture on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Richmond High School Auditorium.

Brother Leo has been called "the greatest speaker on the lecture platform today." He is said to have revived that complete mastery of the voice which was the art of the ancient Romans. Because of his prominent place in the educational world, and his ability as a lecturer, he has been offered guest professorships during the summer sessions at the University of California and the University of Southern California. He is now conducting a lecture course at the University of California, a course which has a capacity enrollment.

Although Brother Leo retains his professorship of literature at St. Mary's College, he was forced to resign his chancellorship to devote more of his time to teaching and lecturing.

On Monday evening Brother Leo will speak on "What is Personality," a subject of interest to everyone.

Charles Douglas of Albany will present several baritone solos.

The Richmond Teachers' Association is presenting the program and invites the public to attend. Douglas and Brother Leo will be introduced by C. V. Howell, president of the Richmond Teachers' association.

TOKYO, Sunday, March 17.—UP—The Minister of Communication has decided to begin construction next month on two air lines which will link Japan and her southern island possessions, the Nippon Dempo news agency learned today.

PEACE MOVES IN OIL TANKER STRIKE FAIL

SAN FRANCISCO, March 16.—(UP)—The strike of seamen aboard Pacific Coast tankers began to make itself felt in other quarters today as mediations for a settlement appeared to be blocked temporarily.

Approximately 30 ships are tied up along the coast, a survey showed pending outcome of the dispute in which seamen are demanding preferential employment for union men and recognition of their union by the oil companies.

Joseph Meyer, federal labor conciliator, had little success in his first effort to end the tie-up.

Taking advantage of the holiday the majority of oil officials left town today and plans for a conference were discarded.

"I guess we'll have to let things just soak until Tuesday," Meyer said.

"No agreement has been reached as yet, but things look brighter," the conciliator said.

Fear was expressed that if the strike continues the major oil companies would be forced to curtail operations in their refineries and fields.

However, one oil company official said that there is an abundant supply of crude oil on hand and there was little possibility of curtailment unless the strike continued indefinitely.

In the meanwhile, a dispute that affected general cargo vessels of five eastern lines appeared amicably settled. The Sailors Union of the Pacific announced this afternoon that they had signed articles with two of the disputing companies—the Isthmian and Calmar Lines.

Lesson Subject At Science Church

"Substance" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, March 17, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

The Golden Text will be: "Whatsoever God doeth, it shall be for ever" (Ecclesiastes 3:14). Other Bible citations will include: "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen. . . . Through faith we understand that the worlds were framed by the word of God, so that things which are seen were not made of things which do appear" (Hebrews 11: 1, 3).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Substance is that which is eternal and incapable of decay and decay; Truth, Life, and Love are substance, as the Scriptures use this word in Hebrew: 'The substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen.' . . . As God is substance and man is the divine image and likeness, man should wish for, and in reality has, only the substance of good, the substance of Spirit, not matter" (pp. 468, 301).

New Vaccine to Offset Whooping Cough Is Brought to High Point of Efficiency

WHOOPING COUGH is a very ancient disease. The first descriptions of it go back to the 11th Century, and Sydenham gives a very accurate depiction of an epidemic that swept over England in 1670-79. But unfortunately nothing was done about it. Because of this contagious nature almost every known drug has been used to control it, and found wanting.

Sedative dosage, vapors, rubs, and rough mixtures of many kinds have all failed. Oil of Thyme was once extensively used, but was too unpleasant in large doses for general use. In the last twenty-five years, modifications of oil of thyme have been helpful.

It was in 1906 that Bordet and Gancou discovered the bacillus, which received their name, and is now generally recognized as the cause of whooping cough. The one great thing to be accomplished is the control of the spread of the disease.

This is extremely difficult because the period of greatest contagion is in the catarrhal stage before the whoop develops and before the diagnosis can be made. The children are not very sick. They have a cough which gradually gets worse, but they are not sick enough to go to bed and they mingle with other children with entire freedom. Almost every child is susceptible to the disease and it spreads with great rapidity.

A CHILD suffering with a paroxysm of coughing is such a pitiable spectacle and in such distress that you will do almost anything in the effort to relieve. The vomiting of all food renders the child so weak that if something is not done to improve the condition it may die from starvation.

We are grasping at every suggestion that promises us any help. After much study and experimentation, it is now possible by examinations of the blood and the sputum to make a fairly early diagnosis. It is not a simple matter. The bacillus of influenza and that of whooping cough appear very much alike, and it is very possible that both may be present in any case. But there is enough difference in the blood picture that we can make an early diagnosis and isolate the patient before many others have been exposed.

Much time and effort has been used to develop a method of vaccinating so as to protect a child from the disease. The literature is now full of the various experiments to this end. Many very encouraging reports are coming in.

It now seems fairly well proven that the injection of a vaccine prepared from various strains of the Bordet bacillus will protect a child from whooping cough, and according to some authors this protection will last for many years. If this proves to be so, it will surely be a great boon to countless children.

DR. LOUIS W. SAUR of Evans-ton, Indiana, submits a five years' summary of his experiments with bacillus pertussis vaccine in preventing whooping cough. Using this vaccine he chose 394 young children who had never been exposed to whooping cough and injected them with vaccine several months before they were exposed.

In many families he chose an older child to whom the vaccine was not administered. In the course of five years, 31 of the unprotected children in twenty-four families developed whooping cough. Twenty-nine of the vaccinated children were exposed to the whooping cough of their older brothers and sisters. None of them contracted the disease.

Not one of 163 children accidentally exposed caught the disease. He finds that the vaccine gives perfect immunity after four months and that the protection lasts for years. He also thinks that the second six months of life is the best time for vaccination. It can do no harm and apparently does untold good.

The medical profession is being encouraged to use the vaccine for protection. They must educate the public. It has taken several hundred years to educate the people to vaccination against small pox. We hope this effort will not take as long.

BATH LOTIONS NECESSARY FOR SOFTENING SKIN

By JACQUELINE HUNT

OUR smart, modern young woman must feel that everything about herself is perfect. Not only must her face and hands be smooth and well-cared for and her costume fresh and perfectly fitted, but the skin on her body must be fair and soft. And right now, to accomplish this she uses bath oils, lotions and water softeners.

Why are these preparations needed? Because steam heat, frequent baths and showers and the busy life you lead, tend to dry out the natural oils of your skin and leave it rough, dry and unlovely. Your face doesn't suffer so much, because it is accustomed to exposure and because nearly every woman gives her face and neck at least one good creaming daily.

Use some of the lovely new bath oils two or three times a week and see how smooth and fine your skin will be. Some of these fine, scented oils massaged into your tired body before you step into your bath. Remove your clothing and give your skin a swift going over with a bath brush whose bristles are not too stiff. This removes the loosened scales of dry skin and brings up the circulation.

Now pour a liberal quantity of the oil into the palm of your hand and, beginning with the neck and shoulders, massage the oil into your thirsty skin. The first time you try the oil, do not use too much. After you see how much of the oil your skin will absorb, you can increase the amount. Massage extra oil into the rough areas as the elbows, knees, ankles and calves of your legs.

If your taste runs to pine, try the new crystals that are filled with precious pine oils. Throw a handful of these into your tub and turn on the hot water, then the cool. The surface of the water will be covered with a thin film of the oil which coats your body as you step into your tub. The oil softens and refines the skin and the other ingredients relax and soothe your tired muscles.

It is best to take these baths at night so you can have the water comfortably warm. Rest in the tub for ten or fifteen minutes, then use a rough fiber sponge or bath brush and lather your body freely with bland soap. Scrub and rinse, preferably under a shower of fine water. Although you may turn on the faucet, open the drain and let the soapy water run off as you fill the tub with clear, warm water.

Dry thoroughly after your bath, and then if you have used one of the body oils, before your bath, work a little more into your warm, relaxed skin. Then take a big pad of cotton soaked in toilet water or lotion go over your skin. And then to bed! See how velvety and refreshed you feel in the morning!

Nicola Tesla Has Given Us Many of the Modern Electrical Conveniences

IN THIS modern age we are prone to take convenience as our due, and not bother to give credit where it belongs—in fact, most of us are too lazy to find out who was responsible for them. Edison, perhaps, was the best-known inventor, but there have been others and there are others. One of these distinctive men is Nicola Tesla.

Tesla has more than 700 inventions to his credit. He has worked mostly in the electrical field—if you do not know that already. He developed the fundamental principle of the modern radio, and the rotating field idea for alternating currents, and many other extremely important principles and devices.

To be somewhat colloquial about it, Tesla has been around for a long time. He was born in Smiljan, Austrian Croatia, in 1857. His father was a Greek clergyman, but his mother was an inventor, as was her father. His school days were extensive. He went to the Realschule at Karlsstadt, the Polytechnic School at Graz, Croatia, and the University of Prague, specializing in mathematics and physics, and their application to electricity.

In 1881 at Budapest he invented a telephone repeater—his first practical effort. Three years later he came to the United States to work at the Edison laboratory in South Orange, N. J. This held him for a while, but he soon set out for himself, and established the Tesla Laboratory in New York City.

He has since been one of the most prolific contributors to the progress of electrical knowledge. He has done such things as designing the apparatus for transmitting Niagara's might into electrical strength, has invented new forms of dynamo, transformers, induction coils, condensers, and has incandescent lamps, and has found time with all this to be a kindly mannered man with a great love of humanity and animals.

There is a story that he once took care of two wounded pigeons until they were better; then he gave them their freedom. This is Tesla.

Bolero Type of Jacket Wins the Vote; Taffeta Well Set As a Favorite Silk

POLKA DOT DETAILS

By IRENE VAIL

New York—Who cares whether March comes in like a lion or lamb, if one is ready for it with some spiffy new clothes?

You have probably noticed that jackets seem to be shortened. The waist is the end for them in many cases, so if you are the type who can wear a bolero now is the time to do it. Since taffeta is one of the best silks of the year, nothing better could be chosen and since jackets and skirts are interchangeable, one is given every opportunity to assemble an ensemble.

Even before the approach of summer women are seemingly being drawn to sheers.

It is only the exception that proves this spring rule for high necklines. The high-cut bodice not always flattering to older women, is mercifully helped by some soft touch. Self-fabric bows are one of the many approved ways. The introduction of some sort of yoke seems helpful also. A number of dresses have a back yoke, and it is usually for the more formal types to have some fullness below the yoke, the bloused back being again in favor.

Vionnet's lead will be followed, and she goes in for width at the top, often from the use of oversized revers and sometimes from the drapery of the sleeve. Lelong and a score of others achieve the shoulder width through the use of capelets of interesting contour.

Sketched today at left a jacket costume in dark matisse crepe is in three-piece effect with two-piece frock and loose jacket. The revers of the jacket are bound with polka dotted taffeta and the same dotted fabric is seen in the pleated ruching bordered in the jumper.

A capelet frock in two-piece style is in dark crepe dotted in white and the deep dotted collar and bow in white tulle.

At right of the column a printed frock is developed in crepe with a black background, a gay effect produced in white, sapphire and lively red flowers. The detail at neckline and sleeves is interesting, as is the continuance of the tunic line, with pleats for skirt fullness.

You and Your Child MICKEY MOUSE COMES IN HANDY TO WIN A POINT

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

TALKING does no good, nor spanking either. Ruth's mother said with a sigh. Behind her on the floor, kicking and screaming, lay Ruth, loud and living proof of her mother's words, just having been spanked.

Why was Ruth punished? For pushing another little girl of her age and causing her to fall and bump her head. When the other child started crying and running, what she thought was right—what she thought the other mother would expect her to do. She punished her child.

Ruth is just three. Until recently she did not play much with other children. She is very awkward with them consequently. If some child is standing in a given place, that is the very spot where she wants to stand. It may be that Ruth wants to be with the other child.

If a child cannot play nicely with children, the parent should try to understand that the child feels as awkward as he acts. One goes with the other. When a child does not respond to spanking or scolding, parents frequently assume that the child is getting worse and that they must treat him more sternly from now on. It apparently does not occur to them that the method may be wrong.

When direct methods fail to get results, try a story. A child will listen to a story. If you think you haven't a knack for storytelling, plan your story in advance for bedtime telling. For example, you could endow Mickey Mouse or some other character with the habit of pushing. Show how one by one he loses all his friends. But Minnie Mouse, who loves him dearly, tells him how he may win them all back again. "It hurts us when you push," Minnie says. "So it must," Mickey agrees. "Thank you, Minnie. I never thought of that! What Mickey says or does will carry weight. Try it and see."

A TOUCH OF BLUE SEQUINS

Stratosphere blue velvet topped with a blouse and cape of matching sequins is the combination used in the creation of this smart cocktail hour gown worn by Kay Sutton, Parisian model. The higher waistline is suggested in the frock and a graceful line is afforded in the cape that falls like a short court train from the collar of the bodice.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Please tell me the best way to clean a hair brush. I clean it with a cloth each time after using it, but the brush is very oily and my hair looks dirty and oily after I have brushed it."—B. B.

I would suggest more frequent shampoos for both your hair and your brush. Wipe your brush on a soft cloth several times during the brushing process and then wash your brush two or three times a week or as often as the bristles show lint and signs of soil. Dip your brush up and down and swish it sideways in a good soap suds, rinse in clear water and stand upright in a milk bottle or hang it with a string from the handle.

QUESTION: "I am about twelve pounds overweight. I eat good food and drink lots of milk, but I can't seem to gain so much as a pound. I also bite my fingernails. How can I break myself of this habit?"—Doris.

You should see a doctor first and find out what you should do to improve your general health. Nervousness probably causes you to bite your fingernails, and it will not be so difficult to break yourself of the habit after your health improves. Try to sleep an extra hour or two each night, exercise moderately during the morning to improve your appetite.

Tasty and Nourishing Dishes for Today Sunday Morning Breakfast Should Be Time of Gaiety

By JUDITH WILSON

ARE your Sunday morning breakfasts dull and uninteresting with the various members of the family coming down when they feel like it to a cup of coffee, toast and whatever else they can find or have ambition enough to fix? If so, you are overlooking one of your best opportunities.

Sunday morning meals should be fun—fun for all of the family and for any friends who care to drop in and join you. If you like to sleep an extra hour or so in the morning, set the breakfast hour at ten so everyone will be ready to sit down together. The menu needn't be in the least extensive or complicated if you make your table and your method of serving as dramatic as possible.

Make your meal colorful. If you have old linen budge table covers or luncheon cloths that are getting a bit old and faded, dip them in warm, cocoa brown dye or orange or blue green and use them on your breakfast table. Or buy some of the new gaily striped or plain or embroidered peasant linens that are inexpensive. Some of the rather heavy pottery breakfast sets that come in warm earthy colors, the individual ramekins and Mexican glassware will make your breakfast table gay and informal.

Food should be somewhat in character with the decor. The table you choose and it should be filling and good. For fruit, you have a wider range of possibilities than you would suspect at first. Pineapple juice-chilled and shaken until foamy with a little lemon and orange juice and maybe just a pinch of sugar makes a grand eye-opener to start with. Or you can choose honey, baked apples, fill the cavities with jam of chopped dates and prunes and serve them in little brown earthenware or glass bowls. Luscious red raspberries in milky glass dishes with soft omelet and lightly toasted complete a meal that every one will enjoy. Not many courses to be sure, so you had better have plenty for second servings! Since you didn't begin with fruit, you had better have a wooden bowl of polished apples and big, juicy oranges as your centerpiece.

At another of your Sunday breakfasts have a big dish of scrambled eggs surrounded by the little cocktail buffeters, browned lightly in butter and sizzling hot. Corned beef patties with poached eggs; hot chicken hash on points of crisp toast, shad roe with bacon and a sardine or lemon sections and watercress and sweetbreads sautéed on butter and served on thin slices of fried ham are delightful main dishes that are just different enough to be popular. Sweetbreads, incidentally, are good when served in any number of ways. Try this recipe:

Sweetbreads with Tomato Sauce
The preliminary preparation of the sweetbreads can be done the night before. Put two pairs of sweetbreads in cold water for an hour. Drain and put to cook in salted water. Bring to a boil and simmer gently for twenty minutes, then drain and plunge to the water until chilled. Trim off all fat and membrane and place in a covered dish in the refrigerator until you are ready to use them. Cut in pieces and sauté in butter in a chafing dish. Add a green pepper minced fine and two small cans of tomato sauce, and the grated rind of a lemon. Simmer for five or six minutes and serve on buttered toast.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "How should artichokes be eaten? How should artichokes be eaten? I have heard both are proper foods."

ANSWER: Whoever informed you was only half right. Artichokes are a finger food. The leaves are taken apart and the edible remainder of each leaf is placed aside. The heart is edible and requires the aid of a knife and fork. Asparagus, on the other hand, should be eaten with a fork. The tip is cut from the rest of the stalk and the fork and conveyed to the mouth.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

A Case of Jealousy on A Husband's Part Toward His Wife's Always-Present Nephew

ABSURD as it seems, a man may be jealous of a child, and a woman may even be jealous of her own daughter. There is often strong jealousy between mother and daughter, and sometimes between father and son.

"My dear Mrs. Martin: Do you really think a man can be jealous of a child? I am a married woman with no children of my own, but I have a nephew who is very dear to me because he is my brother's son. My brother is dead, I do everything I can for this boy, buy him clothes and try to give him some amusement like the movies, etc. My husband while not disagreeable about it, seems a little bit annoyed always when I do these things. He is nice enough to the boy, but is always telling me that the relationship is too remote to have the boy have any lasting affection for me and that he will just learn to regard me as a good thing. I make me very angry because I consider that I am very close to him and that he isn't going to make use of me in after years. Some of my friends have suggested that it is jealousy of the child that makes my husband act the way he does. Do you think he is right?"—D. B. B.

I AM afraid I do. It is hard to understand, but I am afraid I do think that men are frequently jealous of children, even their own.

It is perfectly natural for you to love your brother's boy and natural, too, for him to love you as long as he is more or less a child, but to a certain extent your husband is right. There is too great a difference in your ages to have a close understanding or companionship. Your affection and interest in him, certainly, your keen pleasure in doing for him is not matched in his feeling for you. How could it be? You must not expect too much of a child.

Probably the reason for your husband's feeling, if he really has any feeling about it, is that you are lavishing on this child what you should rightly be lavishing on your own. He may feel keenly the fact that you have no son of your own. If he does—and it's quite likely—doesn't that excuse him in your eyes?

I can hardly believe that he thinks you care more for this boy than you do for him; still jealousy is a strange thing, and your husband may have a very jealous nature.

WITHOUT slighting the boy I would advise you to consider your husband's feelings. Don't thrust the boy into your home life for loving him as you do, you certainly hope that your husband will take a great interest in him. That must come spontaneously. Your interference will hinder rather than help bring about this situation.

Possibly if it were a niece instead of a nephew whom you were bringing up your husband might be less resentful.

"Dear Mrs. Martin: I am invited to a wedding and am wondering whether it's up to me to send the bride a gift, although it's the bride's parents I know. It's to be a big church wedding with a reception to a limited number of friends, and I am invited to the reception, which looks as though I were elected. Am I?"

Yes, you're elected, but being a bachelor you have still a chance to get revenge. You are not absolved from all obligations, you know, so take yourself by the hand and buy the bride something worthy of you. And do use your head about it. And think twice before you make it a cocktail shaker. This year's crop of newlyweds have simply been buried under them. It used to be clocks and lamps, but now it's cocktail and liquor sets.

Ohio Corruption Is Charge Made By SERA Official

WASHINGTON, March 16.—UP.—Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, declaring there is "incontrovertible evidence of political corruption" in Ohio, announced today the Federal Government would take over unemployment aid activities in that State.

His action was authorized by President Roosevelt after Hopkins had charged the campaign committee of Gov. Martin L. Davey with "shaking down" men and business firms who sold goods to the Ohio Relief Administration.

BOY IS KILLED

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—UP.—Bobby Stone, 10, was shot dead accidentally today by a rifle in the hand of his brother, James, 11. The brother and two 12-year old companions said the four boys ran away from home last night to go to Denver and "become cowboys."

Liberal Bloc Of Democrats Will Map Out Program

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Despite threats of punishment and Democratic predictions that the move would get nowhere, the House "liberal bloc" was called today into its second—and program-shaping—meeting.

Speaker Byrnes denied he had any hand in the warning by Representative Fuller (D. Ark.), chairman of the Patrons committee, that job assignments would be refused Democrats who joined the bloc.

"Nor am I worried about the movement," Byrnes added. "The reports I hear are that the folks out in the districts back home are more in favor of President Roosevelt than ever before. Some House members maybe need to remember that."

Income Tax For U. S. Shows Big Gain For Year

WASHINGTON, March 16.—Secretary Morgenthau wore a satisfied grin today as his advisers reported that income tax receipts were well in line with budget estimates. They estimated that taxes reported today and yesterday would approximate $100,000,000.

Officials would not attempt an estimate on the first day's receipts alone, declaring forecasts were Blacker, who charged that he is the always made on a two-day basis because reports from many collectors' fees are delayed. The two-day estimates, however, would be an increase of $25,000,000 over the comparable period of last year.

Girl Changes Into Man When Thunder Roars

SHANGHAI, March 16.—UP.—A reported transformation of a girl into a man, the final stages of which took place during a thunder storm, today had Shanghai taking, although medical men throw a wall of secrecy about the subject of the strange case.

Yeo Ching-Ping, 24, according to apparently authentic reports, was born a female, but gradually took on the physical appearance of a man. Finally, during the thunder storm, she is supposed to have become entirely masculine.

General Li Du, one of China's heroes in the resistance to Japanese seizure of Manchuria, today confirmed the story, the father of the girl-man having been an officer under Li Du. But medical men and scientists refused to add their sanction. Instead, Yeo Ching-Ping was hidden and all efforts were made to suppress publicity on the matter.

Superstitious persons spoke of the fact that the phenomenon reached final stages during the severe storm. Thus, they attributed the transformation to the will of the gods.

Michael Cudahy Named Father Of Child In Action

LOS ANGELES, March 16.—(UP).—Michael Cudahy, described as "the possessor of a personal fortune of $500,000," was sued for $200,000 damages today by Miss Ethel Mary Blacker, who charged that he is the father of her child, born August 5, 1932.

Miss Blacker, accused him of seduction and breach of promise to marry. She had lived with him over a two months' period, she said.

English Arsenal Will Be Removed

LONDON, March 11.—The royal arsenal at Woolwich, the government's huge munition factory and armament store on the south bank of the Thames, which is directly in the line of flight of Continental aircraft, is to be removed to the west coast.

The final decision that the arsenal has been taken by the committee on Imperial defense and the cabinet, which dispatched a commission of war experts, including Lieutenant General Sir Hugh F. Elles, master general of ordnance, to find a site safe from aerial invasion.

Quiet Anniversary For The Roosevelts

WASHINGTON, March 16.—(UP).—The Franklin Roosevelt planned anniversary tomorrow with a quiet family dinner and an automobile ride together.

With them for dinner will be their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, the president's uncle, Frederic Delano, and an aunt, Mrs. Dora Forbes.

Capone Settles His Income Tax With Government

CHICAGO, March 16.—UP.—Alphonse, the Scarface Al, Capone late today agreed to settle for $220,980.78 on the government's claim against him for income taxes evaded during the years of his gangland affluence.

Attorneys for Capone, who is serving an 11-year sentence in Alcatraz federal prison on criminal charges of income tax fraud, agreed with government attorneys to reduce the claim from $386,406.52.

The civil claim covers the same tax years as those for which Capone is now serving time, from 1924 to 1929. Of the settlement, about $125,000 represents delinquent taxes and the remainder penalties.

SPOKANE, Wash.—(UP).—Spring and winter were confused at Spokane in early February. On south sides of houses flowers bloomed in warm sunshine. On north sides were deep snow drifts, piled up in a heavy January storm.

A brisk gale, with the wind velocity here ranging from 50 to 104 miles an hour at high altitudes, whipped the dust across Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, and parts of adjacent States.

WHEAT DESTROYED

In Smith county, Kan., the wind tore out wheat by the roots. Automobile travel was suspended. Trains ran hours late. Light snow mingled intermittently with the dust.

Many Western Kansas towns reported the dust storm more severe than that of a month ago, which at the time was considered the worst in history.

The gale swept a school teacher's automobile from the highway near Crete, Neb., sprawling it in a ditch and breaking the driver's arm.

A 30-mile an hour wind whirled the dust into the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Visibility plummeted to near zero. Airplane traffic was halted. Motoring became hazardous.

Blanketing 24 hours ago in premature springlike temperatures, the region found itself plunged again into winter weather. The mercury dropped early today to as much as 50 degrees below the maximum yesterday. The comparatively cold wave was moving eastward and rising temperatures were forecast for tomorrow.

Five Thousand Made Homeless In River Flood

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 16.—UP—Flood waters that pounded down levees and washed away embankments along the Mississippi and Ohio rivers inundated more than 50,000 acres of rich farm land today and drove 5,000 families from their homes.

Although a half dozen Central States suffered damage, the floods were most savage in southeast Missouri and northeastern Arkansas.

Byer flatly denied statements attributed to him that local authorities were investigating houses of ill-fame in Reno and other cities in search of alleged "victims" of sterilization operations.

"Such statements are absurd and absolutely baseless," he said. "I do not say that we intended to investigate any cases of single women which may appear, but that is merely because medical reasons for operations in such cases are less likely."

Richmond Health Center officials yesterday denied statements that most of the cases of women sent to the county hospital for sterilization, came from the Health Center.

Mrs. Norah Purviance, director, declared that the body was a health agency and not a social service agency, and that all cases sent to the county hospital were there upon the advice of physicians who donate their services.

To case, said Mrs. Purviance, had an unmarried woman been sent by the Health Center to the county hospital for sterilization.

Dr. L. H. Fraser, local physician made a statement similar to that of Mrs. Purviance, declaring that he did not believe that there had been an average of more than half a dozen cases a year. In no case was an unmarried woman sent to the hospital for such an operation, he said. In virtually all cases of women, the patient was the mother of at least three children and further childbirth would endanger her health. In all cases the operation was performed with the consent of the patient.

Guest In Car Is Given Damages In Sum of $2000

MARTINEZ, March 16.—Given the case for consideration at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a jury in the courtroom of Superior Judge Anthony Caminetti, Jr., returned a verdict after nine hours giving judgment of $2,000 in favor of the plaintiff in the $10,445 damage suit filed by Geraldine Rode against Andrew W. Roberts and Viola G. Roberts.

The jury could not agree at 7 o'clock in the evening, and Judge Caminetti directed that they retire for further deliberation.

The judgment was one of the first in county history in which damages were awarded a guest in an action against the driver of a car. Mrs. Rode was a passenger in a machine driven by Mrs. Roberts on July 16, 1934, when an accident occurred near Lafayette in which Mrs. Rode claimed she was injured. She said that Mrs. Roberts imperiled their lives by driving the machine in a sleepy and drowsy condition.

Attorneys Orin J. Bell of Oakland and T. M. Carlson and Robert B. Collins of Richmond represented the plaintiff while James F. Hoey was attorney for the defendant.

Notice of intention to move for a new trial was given by Hoey.

EDWARD A. BURG former Richmond insurance man who has spent the past nine months on the Atlantic ocean as a member of a crew of an oil tanker, has returned here and plans to re-enter the insurance business.

POLYGAMY HIT BY UTAH BILL BEFORE SENATE

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, March 16.—(UP)—Polygamy, the tenderest spot in Mormonism, was prodded again here today with passage by the state house of representatives of a bill which would make having too many wives a prison offense.

For years the crime of plural marriages has been a misdemeanor. Under the house bill it would be a felony. Another new feature is a provision that all persons, except the defendant, would be compelled to testify in such cases.

BEFORE SENATE

The bill did not use the word "polygamy" but the implication was clear. It defined the crime as cohabitation "with more than one person of the opposite sex." Only eight dissenting votes were cast against it. It is now before the senate.

Discussion preceding passage echoed back to the long ago when federal officers, ranging through the hearts of Mormon pioneers, causing husbands, with more than one family, to dodge from home to home to escape the wrath of the United States government.

"The intent of the bill," said one supporter of it, "is to remedy a deplorable condition brought to light by relief work."

He charged that much of distress now being relieved by the federal government and state, resulted from inability of a man to support several wives and many children. It was intimated the plural marriages—without church sanction—occurred in isolated parts of the state, far from population centers. There was no inference that all offenders were Mormons.

BANNED BY CHURCH

Church officials were silent, standing on the familiar ground that anyone practicing polygamy is immediately excommunicated.

Polygamy was officially banned by the church in 1896 and restrictions pertaining to it were written into Utah's constitution when the state was admitted to the Union. Observers agree, however, that it clung on in isolated instances.

MRS. McCORD WILL BE APPREHENDED SAYS MILLER

Sheriff John A. Miller yesterday stated that he had received the first definite word that may lead to the apprehension of Mrs. McCord, indicted former head of the social service bureau.

Miller said he had received information through a police department, the identity of which he did not wish to reveal, that police had contacted a relative of Mrs. McCord who had received word from her, which intimated she might surrender when her nerves quieted down.

CRIME RAIDS BY AGENTS OF U. S. UNDER WAY

WASHINGTON, March 16.—UP—An army of 12,000 treasury agents tonight continued a concerted drive against organized crime which they hoped would bring total arrests to more than 3,000 before the offensive ends tomorrow.

Scattered remnants of the underworld—counterfeiters, narcotics peddlers, smugglers and liquor tax evaders—sought new hideouts from pursuit by the federal authorities working under orders of Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau Jr.

2110 ARRESTED

Late today the arrests totaled 2,110 in the nationwide drive that started Thursday night. Property valued at millions of dollars was seized. Fines running into thousands of dollars were collected.

Combined forces of the Coast Guard, Secret Service, Internal Revenue Intelligence unit, Customs Bureau and Alcohol Tax unit, struck at every part of the underworld over which the treasury has jurisdiction.

GREAT SUCCESS

Secretary Morgenthau said the drive was a "great success." From more than 100 cities, enforcement executives reported the following arrests: Narcotics, bureau 584; secret service 55; customs bureau 279; alcohol tax 1,175; coast guards 16 and intelligence unit one.

In the first serious casualty of the drive, Alcohol Tax Agent G. G. Kirkpatrick was shot in the back and critically wounded while raiding a still near Leesburg, Va. Two assailants escaped.

900 STILLS TAKEN

The alcohol tax unit, most of whose employees have been unpaid since last December 1, reported seizure of 900 stills with a daily capacity of 219,866 gallons. Its agents confiscated 119 automobiles, 40,240 gallons of liquor and $158,953 in private property.

Combined forces of the customs bureau and the coast guard in two days boarded 3,197 ships in search of smuggled goods, narcotics and liquor.

TRIM RUNNERS

The Coast Guard was reported to be pursuing six alleged British run runners off the Eastern seaboard and attempting to run another from the Gulf of Mexico back to Honduras.

The customs bureau made 27 arrests for narcotic violations and seized narcotics worth $50,000.

BARBARA AND PRINCE PART

may occasionally have disagreed, as most people must sometime or another in their lives.

"NOT SUITED"

"Although we always were and will be the sincerest of friends, we are not suited to live with one another."

"Alex to me is one of the finest men I have ever known. He always said his only object in life was to see me happy. He promised that if for some reason I was not happy with him, all I had to do was to say so and he would immediately give me my freedom. In my opinion, no man could be more noble."

"REMAIN FRIENDS"

Princess Midvian came here from Paris a few days ago. Her husband saw her to the train in Paris and then left for Spain. The United Press reached him today by telephone at his sister's house in Catalonia.

"Barbara is the most marvelous person I have ever met," he said. "I am terribly sorry our marriage was not a success. It is my earnest wish that she will always be happy. I am certain we will always remain the greatest of friends."

His wife, in her London suite, then took the telephone and read him the context of her interview with the United Press, announcing her intention of divorcing him.

Princess Midvian then said to the United Press correspondent: "You can say I agree with every word she said."

NAZI ARMY INCREASE ANNOUNCED

passage by France early today of law increasing the term of compulsory military service from one year to two.

The German military measure was approved as a law by the cabinet. It is divided into three sections, as follows:

SCHEME IS TOLD

1. Universal military service.

2. The German peace army is divided into 12 army corps and 35 divisions.

General Werner von Blomberg, defense minister, is empowered to take the necessary measures to carry out the law.

PESS CONFERENCE

Paul Joseph Goebbels, minister of propaganda, at 3:30 p. m. summoned a conference of foreign correspondents for one hour later in the propaganda ministry.

When they had gathered, Hitler himself read his proclamation and the cabinet law. The law, entitled, "Strengthening the German Defense Arm," was signed by Hitler and the members of his cabinet.

Exploring the rearmament of other nations after Germany had fulfilled her obligations to disarm under the Versailles treaty, the proclamation said:

"There is a cry of war today as if there never had been a World War or a Versailles Treaty."

The proclamation remarked that Germany repeatedly in recent years had indicated her willingness to join in disarmament plans, but "these plans always were rejected by others."

Mystery Plane Flight Held Up By Bad Weather

OAKLAND MUNICIPAL AIRPORT, March 16.—(UP)—The government robot plane preparing for a blind flight to Honolulu returned here shortly after sundown today after a 350 mile off-shore flight in which it rode radio beams out and back successfully.

The four crew men aboard said they encountered overcast weather all the way and thought there was little likelihood of being able to start for Honolulu tomorrow.

They flew at 12,000 feet from signals of the Coast Guard cutter Shoshone, 350 miles at sea, and the Dollar liner President Adams, 375 miles out. Their instruments showed them when they were directly over the Shoshone and they turned back after going a few miles beyond.

The test proved the blind flight can be made as soon as weather permitted, members of the crew said.

Here's Bad News; You Can't Climb Poles Any More

SACRAMENTO, March 16.—UP—Adults who have taken one drink too many from the cup that cheers, and children whose kites persist in becoming entangled in power wires, have no business climbing up power poles or transmission towers, the assembly committee on public utilities agreed.

The committee gave its approval to AB 884, by Assemblyman Hunt, (D.), Los Angeles, and Jones, (D.), Montebello, which would make it a misdemeanor to climb poles or towers which bear wires distributing electrical energy, without permission of the owner.

Man Near Death Refuses to Name Wielder Of Gun

BAKERSFIELD, March 16.—UP—Floyd G. Newton, 24, Tehachap ranch worker, refused today to file charges against the man who shot him, probably fatally.

Newton was shot in the mouth by Frank Wilbur, 45, his employer, who said he shot the youth in defending the latter's attractive wife (Irene Newton, 22, Wilbur was held for investigation and Mrs. Newton as a material witness.

Wilbur told authorities "Newton had threatened his wife, from whom he was living apart on Wilbur's ranch."
